Dear Hoi Sze Leung,

Preliminary Offer
Butterfield Croucher Studentship 2024/2025

Thank you for joining the interview on 6 March 2024.

I am delighted to inform you that we will offer you the following award: Butterfield Croucher Studentship for two years from 1 August 2024 specifically to enable you to continue your PhD degree studies in multi-omics deciphering of the soybean-soil microbiome interplay for sustainable agriculture, at the Chinese University of Hong Kong. Congratulations!

This offer is conditional on your being accepted for your proposed research topic by the institution mentioned above. If you have any concerns about this, let us know immediately.

To accept our offer, please contact Anna Law by 22 March 2024 at the latest. Specific terms and conditions of the award will be confirmed in April 2024 or upon receipt of the acceptance letter from your host university.

Your name and institution may appear in some of Croucher's publicity materials announcing successful candidates. Please let us know if you have any objections to this.

I have enclosed a copy of our 8th Report about Croucher's various funding activities for your reference. And please check out our latest activities here: <https://croucher.org.hk/>.

Once again, congratulations on your success!

Yours sincerely,
