Hong Kong Laureate Forum

Dear Scientific Review Panel,

I am pleased to write in support of Ka Yeung (Oscar) Mahasriariyawong's application for the 2025 Hong Kong Laureate Forum. During his winter internship in my laboratory, supervised by my PhD student, Oscar exhibited curiosity and dedication in honing his laboratory skills and understanding the methodology and rationale behind experiments. His work focused on investigating the anti-cancer properties of traditional Chinese herbal medicine, where he gained hands-on experience in cell culture, cell passage, and MTT assays.

Oscar's passion for learning and his commitment to advancing his knowledge and techniques in drug R&D were evident throughout his time in the lab. His ambition to contribute to novel drug R&D is commendable, and I believe the Hong Kong Laureate Forum will provide him with invaluable opportunities to expand his horizons and grow as a researcher.

I endorse his application and wish him the best in his future endeavours.

Sincerely,

George Leung BPharm, PhD
