

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to formally request a transcript of my academic records in support of my professional and academic endeavors. My educational background is as follows:

- Ph.D. in Computer Science - Shanghai Jiao Tong University
- M.A. in Biomedical Informatics - Columbia University
- B.Sc. in Biology - Fudan University

I was admitted to Fudan University's Science and Technology Honors Program in 2009 and was recognized as a Wang Dao Scholar for my academic excellence. During my master's studies at Columbia University, I conducted research in the Department of Biomedical Informatics (DBMI) under the supervision of Professor Chunhua Weng, focusing on clinical data analysis. I later pursued a Ph.D. in Computer Science at Shanghai Jiao Tong University under the mentorship of Professor Yu Yong, with research specializing in AI algorithms for medical data.

Professionally, I have accumulated extensive experience in AI and biomedical informatics. I have previously worked as a Data Scientist at Columbia University, a Data Analyst at Pfizer, and a Research Assistant at Columbia University. After my tenure at Pfizer, I returned to Columbia University as a Data Scientist, contributing to multiple academic publications. In 2016, I co-founded Shanghai Synyi Medical Technology Co., Ltd. (Synyi AI), which has since grown to over 500 employees and secured over $150 million in venture funding across seven investment rounds.

Given my continued professional and academic engagements, I would appreciate your assistance in providing my official transcript at your earliest convenience. Please let me know if any further information is required to facilitate this request.

Thank you for your time and support.

Sincerely,
Handong Ma
